The use and history of the Violet Flame, also known as the Violet Fire, can be traced back to Ancient Tibetan and Indian practices. The Violet Flame of Transmutation and Purification is a powerful tool that has been used to help clear energies of the past, present, and future for many more years than we can fathom. However, this knowledge has been unknown to modern Western society for many years. Today, we can thank the Ascended Master Saint Germain for helping to make the Violet Flame known to the Western world.

Who is Saint Germain?

Repeatedly we have seen the Ascended Master Saint Germain appear in history. Though his true and full history continues to remain a mystery to this day, and the timelines of his sightings based on personal diaries and historical accounts tend to overlap in certain European countries, his presence was always noted as a unique and magical one. In the 1630s, he was believed to be a French merchant and part of the French Court. Some believe he chose to be there during this time to help bring peace during the French Revolution. Saint Germain was also known as Count Saint Germain in the 1700s, who seemed to magically float around Europe, as a scientist, alchemist, and a philosopher, to name a few. People have claimed to see him levitate, teleport, telepathically communicate with others, and have reported seeing him in multiple countries during the same day. Rumor has it that he may have incarnated as Sir Francis Bacon, a man we know now as Shakespeare. Today, he is most recognized as an Ascended Master- the Chohan (or Master) of the 7th Ray, the Violet Ray, the density relating to ultimate, infinite wisdom. He is believed to be so prevalent during this time because his mission is to help Western Society awaken on a spiritual level and attain enlightenment. With his intervention during modern times, one of his greatest gifts to humanity in the West is the tool of the Violet Flame of Transmutation and Purification. Using the Violet Flame helps to turn negative and lower-level energies into positive energy and blessings, as well as to purify almost anything on a physical, mental, emotional, spiritual, and etheric level.

Lineage of Saint Germain's Teachings in the West

In the 1930s, Saint Germain began appearing to Guy Ballard, also known as Godfrey Ray King- now an Ascended Master. Godfrey Ray King then created Saint Germain Foundation and other schools for learning about the I AM Presence and the teachings of the Ascended Master Saint Germain. Later, one of his students, Pearl Dorris, who is now also an Ascended Master, known as Lady Master Pearl, continued his teachings with the utmost Purity and Truth directly from the heart. Today, Peter Mt. Shasta, who was a student of Lady Master Pearl, has taken on the role of continuing to spread the word of the I AM teachings and the word of the Ascended Masters, including that of Saint Germain.

Uses for the Violet Flame of Transmutation

Please keep in mind that the uses for the Violet Flame listed in this document are not the only methods and applications that are successful and effective. These are just the ones I most commonly use, have read about, and have learned about. There is no right, wrong, or solid method to the use and application of the Violet Flame of Transmutation.

It is believed that Fire is the only element that has the ability to cleanse and transmute without needing to be cleansed and replenished itself. To name a few, here are some things that the Violet Flame can help purify:

- Physical pain and ailments, illnesses
- Protection and cleansing of the energetic field and aura
- Clearing and healing the chakras, energetic channels, and meridians within the physical body
- Protecting and clearing a physical or etheric location
- Visiting past timelines to transmute negativities to bring healing to the present and future

- Setting the intention that the Violet Fire will remain somewhere for a specific amount of time
- Can be used in conjunction with Reiki, any type of energetic healing, meditation, work with the Planetary Light Grid, grounding, releasing, etc.
- Protecting our own energy before and after any energy work
- Empathic safety, security, and purification
- Removing etheric cords, blockages, negative attachments

Ways to Invoke the Violet Flame of Transmutation

The methods provided below are not the only methods that are effective when trying to invoke or call in the Violet Fire. As stated with the uses of the Violet Flame above, there is no right, wrong, or solid method of use when using this etheric tool given to us from the Higher Dimensions and most recently, the Ascended Master Saint Germain. Some invocation methods are:

- Prayer: The most commonly used prayer to invoke the Violet Flame is:
 - “I Am a being of Violet Fire, I Am the purity God desires,” repeated 3 times.
 - “I Am Tara of Violet Fire. I Am the purity God desires.” repeated 3 times.
- *Created by Peter Mt. Shasta (For more information, please see I Am the Violet Tara by: Peter Mt. Shasta & I Am the Violet Tara in Action by: Peter Mt. Shasta : See below for the links and more info)
- Visualization- Simply visualize the person, place, or thing within the Violet Consuming Flame and strengthen as you see fit
- Calling in the energy of the Violet Fire or Violet Flame in any way that intuitively feels right to you at that time
- Setting the intention to be using the Violet Fire, or to have it with you at any specific moment

Conclusion

Altogether, the Violet Flame of Transmutation is a special, sacred, powerful, and essential tool that can be used in your daily life. It is also super potent to have in your etheric and spiritual toolbox. Always be sure to give gratitude to the Ascended Master Saint Germain for making these teachings easy to understand, and available in Western society during these modern times.

*Sekhem Seichim is an energetic healing modality founded in recent times by Patrick Zeigler, which can be traced back to the times of Ancient Egypt that uses the Violet Flame for many things. For more on Sekhem, click here:
